

March 31, 2009

Dear Graduate:

Congratulations on the completion of your degree in the Arts from the University of Utah!

The 2009 University of Utah general commencement ceremonies will be held on Friday May 8, 2009 at 9:00 a.m. in the Jon M. Huntsman Center, and I encourage you, family and friends to attend.

Following the general commencement exercises the College of Fine Arts Convocation will be held in Kingsbury Hall at 3:30 p.m. The College of Fine Arts Convocation is the assembly to recognize the achievements of each graduate individually. During the ceremony your name will be read while you walk across the stage to receive your diploma cover from the dean. Photos will be taken by Gammell photography and you will have the opportunity to purchase them at a later date. Tickets for the convocation are not required.

It is important that you arrive at Kingsbury Hall no later than 3:00 p.m. Enter Kingsbury Hall from the east side stage entrance and proceed to the lower level to line up with your department for the processional. There is also a handicap accessible entrance on the east side of the building.

Again, congratulations on your achievement and best wishes for continued success in the future.

Sincerely,

Raymond Tymas-Jones, Ph.D.
Associate Vice President for the Arts
Dean, College of Fine Arts