

Master of Music: Composition

Required Courses (All courses MUSIC)		Semester Credit Hrs
6010	Music Bibliography	2
Music History & Literature – choose one from the following:		3
6610	Music Literature: Renaissance
6620	Music Literature: Baroque
6630	Music Literature: Classical
6640	Music Literature: Romantic
6650	Music Literature: 1900-Present
6660	Music Literature: American Music
6670	Music Literature: Symphonic (Requires instructor permission, open to matriculated students only.)
6680	Music Literature: Opera Literature (Requires instructor permission, open to matriculated students only.) or Research Seminars with permission of instructor. Music 6800, 6801, 6802, 6803, 6804.
6550	Advanced Formal Procedures of 18 th /19 th Centuries I	3
6551	Advanced Formal Procedures of 18 th /19 th Centuries II	3
6520	20 th /21 st Century Analysis I	3
6521	20 th /21 st Century Analysis II	3
6530	Composition: Master's	6
6360	Advanced Electro-Accoustic Music Composition I	3
6976	Composition Final Project: Master's (students must be concurrently enrolled in private lessons, MUSC 6530)	6
7510	Theory Pedagogy (must be taken by all entering TAs)	3
Total Semester Credit Hours		32 or 35

Acceptance into Composition Emphasis

A candidate seeking acceptance into the Master of Music program in composition must submit the following prerequisites:

1. A Bachelor's degree in Music from an accredited university or the equivalent is required.
2. Evidence of the Basic Master's Admission requirements (See Graduate Bulletin).
3. Two or three scores to the Composition faculty for review.

Following completion of the above, the Director of Graduate Studies will inform the candidate, in writing, of his/her acceptance or rejection as a Composition candidate.

Placement Examinations

All students who received baccalaureate degrees from institutions other than the University of Utah and all University of Utah graduates returning for graduate study after an absence of one academic year or more must take Graduate Placement Exams in (1) Theory and (2) Music History and Literature. Placement Exams cannot be taken until the University has accepted the student. Preparation material is available upon request from the Graduate Studies Secretary and is automatically sent to accepted students. Placement Examinations must be taken prior to registering for courses. Examinations are given during the last week of classes prior to the start of any term except for Fall Semester. Placement Examinations for Fall Semester will normally be given one week prior to the start of the term.

An individual entering as a non-matriculated student must take the placement exams in history and/or theory before taking courses in these areas.

The results of the Graduate Placement Exams are to help determine placement in graduate courses and to identify areas where remedial work may be necessary. Students are encouraged to study diligently for these examinations. Poor performance could result in the student being required to take a considerable number of remedial courses.

Music History Diagnostic Examination. The Music History Diagnostic Examination covers the breadth of Western art music from the Medieval period through the Twentieth Century. The student will be asked to discuss the styles and contributions of important composers, define important terms, identify representative musical scores, and write essays on topics of historical importance.

Music Theory Diagnostic Examination. The Music Theory Diagnostic Examination consists of a number of items, which determines the student's competence in harmony, voice leading, counterpoint and form. Composition students are tested on orchestration and instrumentation.

Appointment of Supervisory Committee

Selection and appointment of the members of the supervisory committee should be made by the middle of the first term of study. It is the responsibility of the student to approach prospective committee members and request that they serve on the committee. Committees will be approved or denied at the last Graduate Committee Meeting of the first term of study. Consult the Procedural Guidelines, the Director of Graduate Studies or the Graduate Secretary for details.

Required Compositions

The candidate will have composed at least two major works during his/her studies. These works must be performed on the annual Student Composers' Concert during his/her residency.